HESS & SONS, Fashionable Merchant Tailors and Gent's Furnishers, 1321 and 1323 Market Street.

Harper Held.
F. L. Harper, the oil tool dresser accused of personating an United States officer at New Martinsville, had his hearing before United States Commissioner Campbell yesterday, and was held for the next term of the United States court to answer to the action of the grand jury. He gave bail and was released.

A Bad Hole in the Street.
There is a bad hole on Twelfth street just below the intersection of Charles, caused by lack of drainage from a spring just above. The mud is so deep that Charley Beecher, in trying to haul a load of hay up the hill yesterday, got his horse so deep in the mud that it had to be shoveled out. It was seriously hurt. The bad state of affairs is chargeable to neglect by the city officials.

Just in Time.
Last night about half past 9 o'clock two boys came to police headquarters and told Lieutenant Gaus a man was lying asleep on the Baltimore & Ohio track in the old Hempfield yard. Gaus went over and found Jim Dugan stretched out, partly on the track, and half undressed. He evidently thought he was in his boudoir. He was pulled off just in time to escape being cut in pieces by a passing yard engine. He was locked up to keep him from going to sleep on the track again.

Buckannon Prospects.
Dr. Newton, of Buckannon, who is the secretary of the development company, says there have been at least fifty houses built there since the lot sale, and there is a demand for at least 100 more. The Buckannon River lumber company has its saw mill and planing mill in operation, and the chair factory is on in full. The handle factory and the tannery are also going right along. When the whistle blows at 6 p. m. and the hands turn out the place looks like a small edition of Wheeling. The prospects for investors there are unusually bright.

In the Circuit Court.
In Judge Campbell's court yesterday F. H. Hanke, guardian of the minor orphans of Henry Hanke, was authorized to expend not exceeding $18 a month for the support of each, and to pay all expenses of proceedings in court.
In the case of the City of Wheeling vs. Henry Baer, the court decided that property taken on a distress warrant as belonging to Paige, Carey & Co. was really their property, and subject to attachment, and not the city's property. The city gave notice of an appeal. Six orders of publication were entered in attachment suits against Paige, Carey & Co.

A Cow Killed.
Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock the work train on the B. & O., while backing up the track, near the Hobbs glass works, struck a fine milk cow belonging to William Brinson, and broke her back. The train was stopped in time to prevent it from being derailed, and the animal was drawn upon the bank. Officer Minkemeyer was sent for and shot the animal to put it out of its misery. The cow was afterwards hauled away by the same train that injured it. It is a surprise that more cows are not killed in that ward, as a number are constantly running loose, and causing annoyance to people and railroad men in that vicinity.

Wonderful Gains.
Dr. Miles' Nervine not only cures all nervous diseases, headache, blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, fits and hysteria, but also builds up the body. I could not lie down to sleep, but now sleep perfectly easy, and am still improving wonderfully. Cannot say enough for the Nervine."—Mrs. L. B. MILLARD, Dunkirk, N. Y. THE DELBRUGGE GANG

The Star Attraction in the Police Court Yesterday.

HOW THE MAYOR DOES WITH THEM.

An Obstacle to the Gratification of May Williams's Penchant for Appeals—It is Pay Down or go up, and May Pays—The Ex-Chief does not Appear, but his Fine is Paid for him.

The biggest crowd on record was attracted to the police court yesterday morning by the stories in the morning papers of the raiding of May Williams's house of ill fame the evening before and the capture of Ex-Chief of Police Louis Delbrugge. Louis was hid in the beer closet en debaillie when the officers found him. The landlady, four girls and Delbrugge were called up before the mayor, and all came but Louis, who as stated by the INTELLIGENCER yesterday morning, was released at 11 o'clock the night before for reasons that seemed sufficient to Chief McNichol.

The mayor sprung a new tariff on the prisoners. Heretofore May has always appealed her cases to the circuit court, and, though she was convicted there the other day, the annoyance and extra expense of contesting the matter in the higher courts was considerable. The law prescribes that an appeal may be taken when the fine exceeds $10. Therefore Mayor Seabright fined May Williams $10 and costs, instead of the customary $20, and to kind of even matters as concerned the question of revenue he also assessed Delbrugge and each of the other women $10 and costs. The customary fine is $5. The new idea made it necessary for the accused to pay or go to jail, and after declaring several times that she would not pay, May produced a thick roll of bills from one of her stockings and handed over $75, the aggregate of the penalties.

It is understood semi-officially that the woman is to be given her choice to leave the city or be arraigned before a justice of the peace as a person not of good fame, and sent to jail for a year. She is one of the boldest, most persistent and most reckless women who were ever in Wheeling.

So well is her character known, indeed, that several of the police yesterday expressed the fear that if prompt steps were not taken to prevent some desperate deed by her or through her wicked inspiration, a tragedy would result from her relations with the disgraced ex-city official.

Public indignation has been deeply stirred by the recent disgraceful developments. Everywhere yesterday expressions of it could be heard.
In the excitement of the raid on May's house Tuesday evening the charge against Artie Taylor, an inmate of the house, was overlooked, she having been left in the house to look after it. When the absence of her name from the list was noted yesterday a warrant was issued for her on the charge of loitering in the house, and her case will be passed on this morning.

IS EGGY IN WHEELING?
The Story of one of the Escaped Moundsville Jailbirds.

The man Collins, one of those who escaped from the Moundsville jail the other morning with "Eggy" Condrey, turned up yesterday at Cameron. It was for breaking into and robbing Crawford's store there that he was in jail. A man who saw him asked the authorities at Moundsville if he should arrest Collins, and they told him no; to let him go.

Collins told this man that in order to get out through the sawed bars he had to take all his clothes off and soap his body thoroughly. Friends of Condrey's met the fugitives at the camp grounds and gave them a change of clothing all around. Collins came to Wheeling, he declares, with Eggy, and left Eggy here Tuesday. He had an appointment to meet Towry, another of those who escaped, at New Philadelphia, O., to-day. Doyle, the chicken thief who escaped, told Collins he would go to Indianapolis.

It is not regarded as at all improbable by those who know Condrey that he is in Wheeling. If so, a revival of the now rather neglected industry of burglary may be looked for immediately.
